Is Rescued By Sons When Home Takes Fire

BLAME OVERHEATED FURNACE FOR BLAZE

Damage Done By Blaze Is Estimated At $3,000
Or More

George Shellog, Sr., 29
Chartes street, narrowly escaped being trapped in his blazing home, when fire gutted the structure at 3:25 this morning. Overcome by smoke, he was carried from the burning structure by his sons, Alex and Fred, local high school gridiron stars.
The loss is $3,000, covered by insurance.

*The entire family was forced to flee scantily clad as the fire swept through the home. An overheated furnace is believed to have caused the blaze.

One of the sons had fixed the furnace for the night about midnight, and it is thought, left the draft on. About 3:15, they were awakened to find the home filled with smoke. The mother and five children, Anthony, Alex, Fred, Dora, and Edward, were able to get safely out of the house, but it was necessary for the boys to carry their father out as he was overcome by smoke.

An alarm was sounded from Box alarm was turned in from Box 57.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Influenza has slowed up affairs in city hall as two of the sons, D. O.
Davies and S. W. Treser have been confined to their homes since Monday. Mayor Mayne and Councilman Genken are on the job.

Work in connection with the widening of East Washington street has almost been completed. Workmen today worked along the south side curb in Junior High street vicinity.
Olsen company completed their paving work about a week ago.

Young Pa New observed more than one pedestrian chasing a hat yesterday afternoon when old man
North wind was blowing full blast.
While Young Pa New was going home he had to stop more than once and wipe the dust off of his eyes.

Although frequent warnings have been issued by police that arrests will result from motorists following fire apparatus, to fires, it seemed to have been forgotten last evening, when at least a half dozen machines, raced after Assistant Fire Chief Thomas and B truck from Central station to Box 413. According to eye-witnesses, the machines passed one another in their endavor to get close to the fire trucks, and one machine trailed Assistant Chief Thomas but ten feet behind.

Wind blew many dead branches from trees yesterday afternoon and last night, it was noted this morning. One big limb was broken from a tree on Blaine street, which had it struck a pedestrian, might have killed him.

lamps, flashlights and what not

Lights Out For Time In Part Of City When Wind Levels Pole Line

Electric light service in the major portion of the North Hill, this city, and the area north which includes
New Wilmington, Pulaski and Vol-lant, was interrupted for a time last night when the wind blew with unusually strong velocity.

Eighteen poles and a 22,000-volt line in Locust street were felled.
Within 30 minutes service had been restored by the Pennsylvania Power System employes in North Hill homes. Service to the area north of the city was restored at five a. m.
today.

According to officials of the Penn-

SMETHPORT, Pa., Jan.

checked through two business blocks in Smethport for nine hours, was brought un-o'clock today.

Nine buildings in two blocks on Main street were leveled, as were a dozen or scores of roofs were burned slightly.

Fifty or more persons were home-

Ten Town Send Aid
Fire companies from ten cities fought the blaze, which started shortly after midnight and was fanned by a gale-like wind which swept flames eastward despite all efforts of firemen.

The blaze was stopped in the Fry Department store, the largest in Smethport, in one block, and at a shoe repair establishment in the other block.

Water was pumped from Hamlin Lake in the center of the city from more than a dozen hose lines and poured onto the blazing buildings.
Fire companies from Smethport,
Kane, Mt. Jewett, Eldred, Bradford,
Port Allegheny, Duke Center, Coud-

SAYS ASSASSINS "HIRED KILLERS"

Tip Received In Police Cir-

Case In 24 Hours

(International News Service)
PALMYRA, N. J., Jan. 20.—
Bradway Brown, socially prominent publishing executive, was shot to death last Monday night by hired assassins, "probably
New York gangsters."

That declaration from Police Chief Morris Beck of Palmyra today swung the probe of Brown's mysterious death back into the channel of murder as Beck promised "a break in the case in the next 24 hours."
Beck's statement came after he announced "painstaking reconstruction" of the case and information from an undisclosed source had convinced him the baffling death of the young socialite was not self-inflicted.
He said:

Break Expected.
"I've just received the information we need to clinch this case. I can promise a 'break' within 24 hours. I may have to make a long trip."
Beck said his information indicated two killers lay in wait in Brown's garage and shot him when he drove his car in after returning from his Philadelphia office.

County Salary Board Makes Few Changes In Official Salaries

Rate Of Salary For Year As Announced Shows Few Reductions

County Officials Fail To Agree On Voluntary
Salary Cuts

Salaries of Lawrence county officials, their deputies and clerks, will remain the same as last year, under action taken by the salary board today. Some reduction in salaries of attorneys, janitors and others were made, also on pay per day
for extra clerks and mileage, which it is estimated will result in a total saving of around $1500 to $1800.

Aside from these changes the salary board, which is composed of County Treasurer William O. Pitts, County Commissioners Elmer E.
Conners, F. A. Woods and P. O. Elder, has held three meetings since the Tax Justice league presented a petition asking that the cost of county government be cut down.

At these meetings the heads of the different county offices were called before the board and interrogated as to their willingness to accept a voluntary reduction. They were also asked regarding the salaries paid to deputies and clerks in their offices.

Reduction Blocked.
Some of the heads of departments signified their willingness to accept a reduction; others would not. Those who were willing to take a voluntary cut stated that they would do so only if all took a reduction. As there were some who would not agree to take any reduction, a program for a general reduction was blocked. The officials willing to take the reduction were unwilling to have the pay of their deputies and clerks reduced, unless it began with the heads of departments.

The pay of the county treasurer,
prothonotary, register and recorder,
sheriff, commissioners and controller is fixed by act of assembly. The only way that the salaries for these offices could be reduced was by voluntary contributions. The salaries

TOKYO, Jan. 20.—While Japanese troops launched a "mopping up" campaign along the Jehol border, the foreign office announced today that Chinese forces would fail to defend the threatened province.

This announcement was made despite repeated assurances in reports from Peiping that the Chinese were prepared to defend Jehol to the death.

Will Avoid Clash.
At the Japanese foreign ministry,
however, it was said official reports indicated the Chinese would avoid a clash over Jehol and that General Chiung Kai-Shek, commander-in-chief of the Chinese army, would not send troops into the area.

The Japanese campaign, believed preliminary to a concerted advance on Jehol city (Chengtch), capital of the province, was concentrated in South Fengtien province, along the Jehol border, and in the town of Chinai, where Japanese cavalry were reported massed.

It is reported reinforced by an infantry detachment and to be pressing a united movement against Chinese regulars and volunteers in the vicinity.
According to the Japanese war office, troop movements of like nature will continue for some time and will be followed by a major drive against Jehol city.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN "LOVE PIRATE" SUIT

Repercussions Are Heard In Stillman Suit

Woman Mentioned In "Love Pirate Suit" Says Stillman Was On Level

HUSBAND TRYING TO OBTAIN MONEY

(International News Service)
NORTH WEYMOUTH, Mass., Jan. 20.—Repercussions of the $200,000 "love pirate" suit brought by Luc Rochefort against James A. Stillman re-echoed in this south shore community today.

Main reverberations were:
1—Mrs. Emily M. Baker, mother of Mrs. Marjorie Nye Rochefort, claimed Rochefort demanded his "cut" in money secured by his wife, and asserted Rochefort hid in his apartment when Stillman came on a visit and threatened the mother if she should reveal to Stillman that her daughter was a married woman.

2—The Canadian's estranged wife, a vivacious brunette, was quoted as terming her husband's law suit an "outrage," said she had no love for him as life with him was one separation after another; declared she would aid Stillman; avowed the New York banker's only interest in her was to help her and a girl friend in Havana financially in conducting a beauty shop; said she gave some of the money to her husband and declared Stillman was wholly innocent of any wrong-doing.

Beauty Shop Operator.
"Margie" revealed that for the past six months, instead of being the "pal" of Stillman, she had been working industriously as a beauty shop operator in Boston. She had been living with her mother and her aunt, Mrs. Maude B. Taggdon. Mrs. Taggdon's husband is a shoe salesman and his home here is a modest one.

Mrs. Baker said Rochefort met her daughter in a Boston theatre. He was then studying at Harvard and Boston university and Marjorie was a student at the Boston Conservatory of Music.

It seemed to be a "love match" said Mrs. Baker and she did not interfere with the marriage, although she thought her daughter quite young. She was 19 when married.

In three or four years the romance "went on the rocks." Mrs. Rochefort charged, when Rochefort began going around with other men and women, some of them actresses. She alleged Rochefort took a gay trip to Paris.

It was after the couple broke up that Marjorie met Stillman through Miss Astrid Haug, a mutual friend, living in the same apartment house in Long Island City, N. Y., as Mrs. Rochefort and her mother.

"He liked both Miss Haug and Marjorie very well," said Mrs. Baker, "and after a time he suggested that she finish her course of study, and said he would open a beauty shop for my daughter and Astrid in Havana."

Demanding Money.
When Rochefort discovered Stillman was visiting his wife, Mrs. Baker charged, he demanded some of the money Stillman gave Marjorie with which to purchase fittings for the beauty shop.

The estranged wife of Rochefort said she gave her husband money when he came to her and told her he had been very ill but that he had invented a paper umbrella and wanted money to put it on the market. "He knew all about the Havana beauty shop proposition," said Mrs. Rochefort, "and what Mr. Stillman had offered to do for me and Miss Haug. I did not ask for his approval particularly, because I was on my own, but he certainly did not object to it."

Mrs. Rochefort declared there had been no real affection between herself and her husband for many years.

Nearly $5,000 worth of counterfeit money has been gathered in Philadelphia by federal agents; much to the distress of merchants. There is always something to take the joy out of life!

on the North Hill when the electric lights suddenly went out and were out for nearly half an hour. The high wind caused a pole line to go down and the current was temporarily cut off. A lot of electric clocks needed alteration after the current was restored. Radios were strangely silent on the North Hill during the half hour. This first interruption in electric service here for years served to emphasize in many homes the amount of dependency there is on electricity and the service that is accorded continuously throughout the day and night.

Work is progressing quite rapidly in the razing of the buildings on the public square occupying the site of the new post office. Most of the windows and doors were removed the first day.

The high wind of last night suddenly died down about 1:30 o'clock this morning. Pa Newc observes that persons who were out at that hour.

Lewis Moseley, of the city hall, was surprised this morning that the weather had not turned colder. "I expected that it would be really cold this morning," he said. The weather changed but little as to temperature, following the high wind of the night.

That man who was so nonchalantly working in his garden on the Pulaski road was apparently unaware of the interest the fact created of passing motorists. One of those who marveled at the sight was Rev. C. S. Joshua and he obligingly passed the information on to a News reporter to add to his signs of spring.

This should be welcome news to the ladies' indoor golf classes will be offered by the Y. W. C. A., commencing on Monday, January 30 in the gymnasium. Mrs. John E. Elliott will be in charge.

Pa Newc knows of one fellow here who'd be spreading the alarm that a leopard was loose in Lawrence county, had he failed to unload barrels of shot in the striped beast's body a night or so ago. It so happens that friends of the particular fellow framed a scheme for frightening him by "posing" in the night in the yard inside his home.

One of the casualties of the storm (or so it would appear) is the "No U Turn" sign which formerly was located below the traffic light at the intersection of Mercer street and Washington. The sign had a less officious location this morning.

Yesterday's 60 degrees, while not as high as the 72 set by the thermometer on January 14 of last year, was one of the highest ever recorded for January 19.

It's not a question so much of "button, button, who has the button," with the Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, as it is "buttons, buttons, who'll donate the buttons." The Chapter is in urgent need of small white buttons for the garments they are making out of the cloth received from the National Red Cross.

calling four companies to the scene, while No. 6 department went to Central.

The blaze had gained a good start by the time the first company arrived on the scene, and fanned by a high wind, swept through the structure from cellar to attic, gutting the home and destroying practically all of the contents.

There was a policy on the home, covering a mortgage, and while the entire premium had not been paid on a policy covering the contents, it is believed that full protection would be afforded.

Four lines of hose were laid, and firemen battled the blaze until 6 o'clock this morning, before it was finally extinguished.

Mr. Shelligg was taken to the home of a sister where it was stated this morning, he had recovered from the effects of the smoke he had inhaled.

Other Alarms.
Two other alarms were answered by firemen last evening. At 9:40, an alarm was sounded from Box 413, calling No. 4 and B. truck to the home of J. F. Carpenter of 915 Winslow avenue. The chimney was burning out, and the family was afraid that it might set fire to the house.

Waterway Plan Being Surveyed

Possible River Improvements For Barge Transportation Near Youngstown Being Studied

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 20.—Possible river improvements that would provide a water route suitable for barge transportation between Pittsburgh and Youngstown, Ohio, today are under survey by the United States Engineer office, Pittsburgh division.

The study was undertaken on receipt of orders from area headquarters in St. Louis to report on the advisability of improving the Beaver and Mahoning rivers to Struthers, O., near Youngstown, and the approximate cost of such a project. It is expected to consume about 90 days.

Should the canalization be approved by the War department, a terminal would probably be built at Struthers for transfer of Pittsburgh coal and Youngstown district steel to rail and river connections for consignment to their ultimate destinations.

Manufacturing and mining interests of the Pittsburgh-Youngstown regions have requested two previous surveys with a view to obtaining transportation facilities.

LIGHTS OUT FOR TIME IN PART OF CITY WHEN STORM LEVELS POLES

cy. Last night's wind proved the most serious to power company poles and lines during the past several years.

Street lights here were not affected, as they derive current from the West Side sub-station.

A peculiarity of the windstorm is that only the west side of Locust street apparently was in it. No damage on the east side of the thoroughfare were damaged.

When the storm burst poles were broken off at the top of pulled out of the ground. A loud crackling noise from the charged wires was heard and flames appeared intermittently.

The current was disconnected. Fortunately no persons were along the street and no persons were buffeted by the wind.

New poles were rushed immediately to the scene and the 18 had been erected by noon today.

The Jameson Memorial hospital which was also served by the Pulaski road substation 22,000 volt line and also a primary line was without service less than a minute.

This was due to the fact that a primary wire fortunately failed to break when the poles fell carrying the 22,000 volt line to the ground.

of the deputies and clerks is fixed by the board, also the salaries of attorneys, county physician, janitors and a few others.

Lockhart Volunteers.
County Solicitor John P. Lockhart came before the board and voluntarily agreed to accept a reduction of $300 per year, making his salary $1800 instead of $2100. After he had taken this action the board reduced the salary of counsel for the county controller to $1050 from $1200, to place it in line with the salary of the county attorney.

Other Reductions.
Other reductions made by the salary board were as follows: Two janitors, from $125 each to $115 each per month; janitress, from $75 to $70; librarian, from $105 to $95; stenographer, to county superintendent of schools, from $85 to $75; bookkeeper at county home, from $10 a week to $40 per month; extra help, from $3 per day to $2 per day; mileage for all officials who charge mileage, from 10 cents to 8 cents per mile. All new clerks are to receive $50 per month, instead of $70.

There was considerable discussion over the salaries and fees paid to court stenographers, but it was found that the salary board does not have jurisdiction over them, as their compensation is fixed by court.

The county commissioners have been receiving $3000 per year as commissioners and $600 per year as poor directors. There is now pending before the court a case calling into question the legality of the payment.

CLOGGED BOWELS EXACT THEIR PRICE

Don't imagine that you can shock your system every few days with laxatives and fail to pay the price. Laxatives and purges rob the delicate membrane lining of your bowels of moisture and elasticity, so that you have to continue drugging more and more to spur your reluctant bowels to action. Almost before you realize your peril, you're a laxative slave. Digestive troubles develop, headaches, dizzy spells and biliousness follow. An operation for piles or other intestinal trouble may result.

But you can free yourself from laxative slavery and constipation quickly and easily with Cream of Nujol treatment.

This new form of Nujol is specially suited to sufferers from chronic constipation. It soothes and comforts the bowels, absorbs poisons, and helps the peristaltic action which alone can dispose of wastes naturally.

Start the new harmless Cream of Nujol treatment tonight. It is delicious to take and costs you only a few cents a day.

Stop at your druggist's and get a bottle tonight.

ment of the $600. The commissioners do not know whether or not they will receive this additional $600 until the case is decided. It is understood that this uncertainty entered into the discussion of the commissioners over the question of taking a voluntary cut, as they were not certain what their salary really is, aside from the $3000.

The salaries adjusted and those which are certain to remain the same as last year in the different offices are given below. They are figured out on a monthly basis. In the case of the county commissioners, the salary for commissioner only is used, pending a decision on the salary as poor director.

two young skaters just a few days ago.

Use Bucket Brigade.
Half of the fire-fighting forces, aided by residents in the residential section of the city, were detailed to house-tops to pour buckets of water on sparks flying through the air to prevent the blaze from breaking out in many places all over the city.

Telephone and light lines were burned, cutting off all communication and illumination, thus adding to the general pandemonium.

The fire started in the City Meat Market and spread quickly to the Farm Bureau Building, a harness shop, drug store, grocery, and hardware store on the south side of Main street.

Flames jumped 300 feet across the city's principal thoroughfare to the Imperial Hotel on the north side of the street in the next block and raged through a coffee shop and a shoe repair establishment.

ROOSEVELT AND HOOVER AGAIN IN CONFERENCE

the mansion at 11 a. m. He entered the grounds through the west gate and was driven to the south entrance where an elevator carried him up to the main floor.

Welcome Extended.
President Hoover, flanked by Secretary of State Stimson and Secretary of the Treasury Mills, who had left the cabinet meeting, welcomed Mr. Roosevelt and his party in the red room.

With Mr. Roosevelt was Norman H. Davis, prominently mentioned as the next secretary of state, and Prof. Raymond Moley, one of the President-elect's chief economic advisers. Mills and Moley seconded their respective principals in the November conference, which was rather unfruitful.

The inclusion of Davis in the party tended to substantiate reports that he will be a prominent figure in the new administration—either as secretary of state or as a special ambassador in world affairs. For more than a year Davis has been a special ambassador without portfolio in Europe for the Hoover administration, although a Democrat who once was under-secretary of state for Woodrow Wilson.

They sat at the same table around which they discussed matters two months ago. Cigars and cigarettes were lighted and the conference speedily got under way.

Declining an invitation to remain at the White House for luncheon because of other engagements before his departure South at two p. m., the President-elect left the White House at 12:30 p. m. and returned to the Mayflower Hotel.

A joint statement probably will be issued later.

CLASS GRADUATION OCCURS NEXT WEEK

diplomas and awards will be carried out. High school authorities expect the Cathedral auditorium will be packed.

Last June's commencement the senior class was responsible for the first departure from the usual brand of commencements, but that departure wasn't so radical as this.

Change Wins Praise.
"Commencements should be more practical," said a principal speaking of the change. "The audience, as well as the graduates, appreciated the June exhibition and now we've a more enlightening one planned for next week. The commencement dignity is still there."

The seniors, not entirely obedient to the dictates of tradition, will sit on the Cathedral stage garbed in graduation cap and gown. Nearly 25 are to get diplomas.

At a service in the Senior high school auditorium on Sunday evening, January 22, Dr. G. S. Gennett, pastor of the First Christian church, will preach the class baccalaureate sermon.

When children won't eat— and won't gain weight—

Try This!

The youngster who has no appetite, probably has stasis. A little fig syrup will soon correct this condition—then watch the child eat—and gain!

Mothers should never coax a child to eat. Nature knows best. Remove the cause of a youngster's poor appetite—get rid of stasis. Children who don't eat are sluggish. Read what the "California treatment" is doing for sluggish, listless children in every part of the country!

A Pound a Week
Your child will eat well from the day and hour you conquer sluggishness. But that girl or boy with furry tongue and a bad breath should not be dosed with salts!

Begin tonight, with enough pure fig syrup to cleanse the colon thoroughly. Less tomorrow, then every other day, or twice a week, until the appetite, digestion, weight, complexion, tell you the stasis is gone. When a cold or other ailment has again clogged the system, fig syrup will soon set things to right.

When appetite fails, tongue is coated white, eyes are a bilious yellow, California fig syrup will gently stimulate the colon muscles—and the child you used to coax to eat will fairly devour his food.

Just One IF—The claims made for California Fig Syrup are true and it will do the same for you IF you get genuine CALIFORNIA fig syrup. Don't accept any of the substitutes.

FINLAND LEARNS

THE individual who argues against prohibition, nearly always at some point or other in his discussion, makes the statement that the legalization of the liquor traffic would eliminate the bootlegger and the moonshiner.

They would simply fold up and quit when the government took over the traffic, he says.

Well, may be, and again possibly not.

In Finland, a few months ago, they went back to government control of liquor after trying prohibition. The wets, there as here, argued that the change would put the bootlegger out of business.

But did it?
It did not.

Several months have elapsed since Finland went back into the booze business and the bootlegger is still doing business at the old stand. He sells his product after the licensed places have closed. Too, he sells it to persons who desire to avoid the tax that is placed on legal sales. They have bootleggers in Finland today just as they had in prohibition times. And we would have them, too, if we went back to government control, for the same reason that Finland has them.

THE ALMANAC

It seems to the man in town that the almanac has lost the bulk of its former following or has been supplanted by other forms of advertising. He sometimes wonders if back on the farm it is still read as assiduously and credulously as it was 50 years ago.

As it is remembered the old-fashioned almanac was issued as the advertising medium for patent remedies to which were attributed curative powers by testimonials and advertisements distributed through the almanac's pages. Sandwiched between these were mystic diagrams of the signs of the zodiac, the moon's phases, weather forecasts, hoary anecdotes and sage advice culled from Poor Richard's sayings.

No rural home was without its almanac in the old days. It provided reading matter for long winter evenings, guided the housewife in planting her flowers by the "up sign" and the potatoes by the "down sign", and determined the family social and business calendar by its long-distance weather forecasts. Without an almanac life would have been like a ship without a rudder.

Grandmother swore by the almanac, "doctored" by it, planted and harvested by it, argued by it, formed her opinions from it and laughed at the jokes.

But, those days are gone.
The almanac is all but extinct.

CUTTING THE FLYING TIME

When there is an announcement dealing with transcontinental air flights there almost invariably comes to mind thoughts of the time required to make the first land journeys from coast to coast and of the hardships which were endured by the pioneers. Comparisons may be odious, but most of us like to make them just the same. When transcontinental air service, making the distance in 24 hours, was established the accomplishment was generally viewed as remarkable, which it was. But we soon became accustomed to the schedule, and while we did marvel at times, after a month or so it was taken more or less for granted.

Now comes the announcement that the service is to be speeded up and that within a short time one may travel from New York to Los Angeles or vice versa in less than 16 hours. The new schedule will be the outcome of a competitive "war" between rival lines. Did you ever stop to think how much of our progress is due to competition? We mean, of course, competition of the right kind. It's the continual striving to do justice a little better than the other fellow, the efforts of one concern to give more service than another, or of the merchant to give the best quality for the least money, that makes "the wheels go round."

The sixteen-hour service between New York and Los Angeles will not end the competition in transcontinental air transportation. It will be just one step toward greater speed. Inventive genius is never content with that which it has accomplished; there always is a reaching out for improvements. It will not be so very long until we hear another announcement to the effect that the sixteen-hour schedule has been reduced and the flying time cut to, say, ten hours. Further than that our imagination refuses to carry us.

OLD-FASHIONED

The present prides itself on a preference for things new and novel, asserting a conscious independence of tradition and custom. To call a thing old-fashioned is the favorite condemnation of a period restless with yearning for change. It is a casual comment, easily made and needing little argument, on modes and manners whose chief offense is that they have already been tried and become familiar.

This state of mind keeps life stirring with novelty, entertaining, stimulating and often amusing. It does little damage, until it discredits old essentials for which no fit substitute is in sight. But the sense of difference between yesterday and tomorrow often loses sight of the distinction between old-fashioned fundamentals and yesterday's transient habits, no better and perhaps no worse than those on trial today. The modernist point of view is dangerously liable to dismiss, because outdated, things that are by no means outworn.

The genuinely old-fashioned custom or code was fashioned long ago and has survived much experience. It has survived because there is in it something universal something indifferent to every generation's appetite for novelty. Its age and endurance are arguments on its side, and since it has grown slowly and lived long, it cannot be casually thrown away to make quick room for experiments. The demand for change must acknowledge this difference between what was yesterday's transient habit and the fundamental things that were fashioned of old.

Men's virtues are now measured by the size of their tombstones.

One trouble with most drivers is that they think too lightly of the ounce of prevention.

THIS AND THAT

I met a pessimist and he said he was sadder than usual today because he had just met an old friend who insisted on being cheerful all through his troubles. . . . The pessimist said it broke his heart, such cheerfulness. The old friend should have been weepy and desolate. But instead he managed to smile a little. And the pessimist simply couldn't stand it. . . . It was very sad.

When a man makes sage and sometimes critical remarks about "women," his wife mentally thinks he is talking about her.

When a woman makes a few acid comments on men, her husband always assumes that she is talking about him.

Not long ago trained investigators asked questions of 500 women; some were married, some were single and some had been divorced. Three-fourths of the divorced women thought that love flies out the window when poverty comes in at the door. But only one-third of the married women thought so. One-third of the divorced women thought that men are "mean" to women; only one-tenth of the married women think so.

And when they were asked if modern men are "romantic," half of the married women thought so, but only one-third of the divorced women agreed. . . . These answers mean only what you want them to mean. The divorced women may have married "mean" men, but the happily married ones may be happy just because they are the kind of women who do NOT think men are mean.

A quotation, from Thoreau, for these times: "I saw a delicate flower he grown up two feet high, between the horse's path and the wheel track. An inch more to the right or left had sealed its fate, or an inch higher; and yet it lived to flourish as much as if it had a thousand acres of untrodden space around it, and never knew the danger it incurred. It did not borrow trouble, nor invite an evil fate by apprehending it."

When you borrow trouble, life remorselessly insists on repayment.

TRUE LOVE—AND PARENTS

Parents of marriageable daughters often make the young men who call on them wary, because of the evident desire of the parents to find a husband for the girl.

They appear too cordial and too anxious to extol their charms. In fact the more effort parents make to impress the young man, the less likely he is to become interested in the daughter.

Matters of this kind should be allowed to take their own course. Marriages schemed at and planned by parents seldom turn out happily.

Parents who are sensible realize this and should not be guilty of seeming to try to ensnare a son-in-law. But fathers and mothers desire the happiness of their children and especially as they grow older want them to find the right one.

Marriage is a serious undertaking and a life time is sometimes a long time to spend with a person who loses in interest as the novelty wears off.

It would be far better for a girl never to marry than to find herself attached to one who does not love her sincerely.

Only the most selfish of parents could wish such a fate for their girl. True love does not need a press agent.

THE BLUSTERERS

Some cover with a churlish word. The kindness they intend to do. And speak of mercy as absurd. Play-acting, all their long lives through.

I've known men so afraid they'd cry And shame themselves with pity's tears.

That with spectators standing by They greeted poverty with sneers. And then in the late hours of night Unseen they sought the poor man's door.

To set his troubled cares aright And vanished, to be seen no more.

Some men there are so fragile made So tender and so kind of heart That of a fear they stand afraid— And so they play the blusterer's part.

Russian Reviews Indicate Lack Of Contentment Among People

Reports From Shortened Five-Year Plan Interpreted By Americans As Evidence That Living Necessaries Are Subordinated To Machine

Reports from the abbreviated five-year plan in Russia, supplemented by a statement from Stalin, Soviet chief, are interpreted in this country as evidence that while an industrial machine of some strength has been built, it has been at the expense of the comfort and freedom of the people, and it has fallen short of the goal. This is the verdict, notwithstanding the Soviet explanation of war requirements in the Far East and failure to get cooperation from other nations. Concessions to capitalism also are observed in whatever has been achieved.

Failure of the Soviet leadership to hold its own associates in line is shown by the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, referring to the fact that "six prominent Soviet Deputies Thomas officials have just met and out to them drastic punishment for offenses against the Communist party." That paper concludes that "schism and heresy are at work," and summarizes the developments with the statement: "Only one interpretation can be placed on such developments as Moscow. They mean that even the men who have hitherto been among the props of the Soviet system are no longer wholly satisfied with its principles or its workings and crave to demolish or reform it. It was Zinoviev and other moguls of the Third International who not long ago felt the lash which Stalin has ready to lay all those who do not bend their wills and their backs unquestioningly to his rule."

Importance is given by the NEW YORK TIMES to the statement from Stalin, showing that "in three basic commodities, the Soviet authorities now expect to show at the end of 1933 results considerably better than those that should have been attained at the end of 1932." The Times adds: "If the five-year plan were really completed at the beginning of this year, then the year 1932 would have seen 2,000,000 tons of pig iron produced. That figure is now fixed for 1933. Of coal there should have been 30,000,000 tons produced in 1932. The figure set for 1933 is now 34,000,000 tons. Of electric power there should have been 17,000,000 kilowatt-hours in 1932. The quota now fixed for 1933 is something over 18,000,000 kilowatt-hours. . . . The actual history of the famous plan is that it started out to be a five-year plan to be completed by Oct. 1, 1933. It was shortened into a four-year plan to be completed by October 1, 1932. It was prolonged by three months by making the Soviet fiscal year correspond with the calendar year, and so terminating Dec. 31, 1932. It is now prolonged to a five-and-a-quarter-year plan by being made terminable Dec. 31, 1933; and after that we shall see."

"The Russian government is continuing its policy of making capital concessions to its people as a matter of expediency," says the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL, which, while recognizing "astounding changes in Russia," observes that "they have had to back-track in several notable instances in order to overcome economic problems."

The policies adopted are held by The State Journal to "demonstrate the weakness of the communistic system," and of these the Lincoln paper declares: "The new policy toward the agricultural class, the peasants, is really an old one. Under the proposed system, which was in effect ten years ago, peasants were to be assessed a definite grain tax in advance of sowing. This gives the peasant assurance that his production beyond the amount fixed will be his. Under the system which has failed to produce the food needed by the people of the republic, peasants were levied upon for grain deliveries the amount of which was based upon the possibilities. The peasant, under this system, never knew beforehand what was expected of him and cut down his production in protest against the system. In order to counteract the shortage the government has had to return to a more or less capitalistic system by which the producer has an incentive for producing his full crop. Under this system the more he produces the more he gets."

The plan may be said to have put the "man before the machine," according to the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, which presents the estimate of results: "Russia has made an impressive installation of iron and steel, electric and chemical plants, of factories to make automobiles, tractors and other machines. Statistically, Russia has leaped in five years into the front rank of heavy industry nations. The figures on production of coal, iron, oil, electricity and machinery are striking. In addition, the Soviet has created vast state farms. All of this, however, has been achieved at tremendous human sacrifice. According to some observers the Russian people have never before been so badly off for food and clothing. According to modern observers, the people are worse off than they were when the five-year plan was launched and are facing this year their most severe food shortage."

"Just as the great new plants are rendered partly valueless by the fact that there are so few trained men in Russia to operate them," states the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, "so the life of the people under communism presents a confused mixture of good and bad." Settling forth the democratic idea that "government is for the people, not the people for government," the CLEVELAND NEWS says: "Food is scarce; the people are living under restrictive, almost primitive conditions. Their lot is unhappy—how unhappy the world can only guess. On the other hand, undoubted progress has been made in industrialization. Russia under the old order was a nation of peasants. It has been made into a nation of manufacturers. It has produced machinery, achieved some remarkable feats of engineering. By the simple expedient of putting everyone to work, it has entirely overcome unemployment, whether its workers are decently fed or not."

A New York taxicab driver was hailed by a speakeasy doorman, who escorted four men to the cab, arranged them carefully within, and instructed the chauffeur: "That man on the left goes to—Park avenue, the next one to—East Six

ANTISEPTIC by VICKS

at HALF the usual price of other quality antiseptics

Born in a depression year... and priced accordingly... a 75¢ value for only 35¢

TODAY the makers of Vicks Vaporub present a new antiseptic... Vicks Rubatone Antiseptic. No extravagant claims are made for it. It is simply the best oral antiseptic Vicks Chemists could produce. And they were aided by the scientific experts of our 16 allied organizations... in America, in England, and in Germany.

They examined the whole field of oral antiseptics. Some they found were too weak... a few were far too strong for regular use in the mouth... most were very good... but all were much too expensive... especially for 1933.

Effective... and Safe
So they produced a balanced antiseptic... mild enough to be used daily without risk to delicate membranes

...strong enough to do everything an oral antiseptic can and should do. You can use it in your customary way.

And Vicks Antiseptic has this additional unique advantage... Born in a depression year, it is priced accordingly. Large 10-oz. bottle... a usual 75¢ value... only 35¢.

COURT HOUSE CLOCK IS RUNNING AGAIN

After several weeks of idleness, the big court house clock is running again.

About a year and a half ago, the clock was given a complete overhauling, but broke down again several weeks ago. Repairs were completed the other day by a local jeweler, and the time piece is again grinding out the minutes and hours for local residents.

No wonder Germany wants equal armament. It's such a nice alibi for inability to pay.

Baby Beeves Are Being Exhibited

Baby Beeves Parade And Horseshoe Pitching Gets Attention At Farm
Show

BIGI BROTHERS ARE SENSATIONS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—State farm show crowds today divided interest between the exhibit of baby beeves and the horseshoe pitching finals.

Proud and youthful 4-H club owners of the beeves started parading their pets of the show yesterday and resumed today. The judging was to terminate with the grand finale of the week, selection of the grand champion and reserves. The animals then go "under the hammer."

C. Bigi and S. Bigi, youthful Westmoreland county brothers, provided the highlight of the horseshoe tournament when they worked their way into the quarter finals with marked manship that amazed spectators. When points counted most, they threw 15 ringers out of 18 attempts. C. Bigi later was eliminated. His brother was to face William Himes of Blair county today in the semi-final round.

Stewart Straw, Clearfield county, 1932 horseshoe champion, was to face the semi-final victor for the state title. Thirty entrants from 21 counties were gradually reduced to eight, as follows: Bigi Brothers, Westmoreland; Luther Baltzley, commissioner of Adams county; William Himes, Blair; Norman Horning, Juniata; Edwin Boone, Washington; John Fulton, Cumberland, and William Arnold, York.

First and second place winners in the baby best judging by counties included the following thus far shown: Dauphin, Allen Dehney, of Middletown, and Helen Brandt, Elizabethtown; Cumberland, Pauline Miller, Carlisle, and Sarah Myers, Mechanicsburg; Lancaster, Ezra Engle, Mt. Joy, and Lloyd Denlinger, Vintage. County first place winners receive $20 prizes. Ribbons are the grand and reserve grand champion rewards.

Criticise Firm In Japan After Recent Trouble

Japanese Rioting At Sewing Machine Company Property
Only Part Of Labor
Trouble

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Jan. 20.—Intimating Japanese authorities failed to communicate with Yokohama police regarding Japanese rioting at the property of the American-owned Singer Sewing Machine company, a foreign office spokesman today criticized officials of the company for asking assistance from Foreign Minister Uchida.

"Why should the Singer people request Uchida to assist them," he asked. "They are doing business in Japan and are subject to the same strike hardships as Japanese firms. I do not believe the motive for the rioting and destruction of the property was anti-American feeling. The majority of the company's staff here are British and British materials are used. It is hardly an American affair."

Committee For Red Cross Party Further Plans

General Committee From
Elks Club Asks Co-operation
Of All Organizations

MANY RESERVATIONS
MADE FOR TABLES

Reports of the various sub-committees which were submitted at a meeting of the general committee for New Castle Lodge No. 69, B. P. O. E., who are sponsoring a big card party and dance for the benefit of Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, indicate that the event, which will be held on Tuesday evening, January 31, will be one of the biggest affairs of its kind ever held in the city.

Various other organizations have already signified their intention of co-operating wholeheartedly in the arrangements for the evening.

General Chairman Harry Alexander and Exalted Ruler John D. Hite pointed out today that the party should not be considered an Elks party but a community party. The Elks have merely turned over their clubhouse for the evening, and are endeavoring to do all in their power to make the party a success. Every penny taken in will go directly to the Red Cross and will augment the supplementary Roll Call being held in the city next week.

The admission to the party will be a very nominal one, and will enable those who cannot afford to give very much, to assist in this worthy project.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets were placed in the hands of the committee by Chairman Walter DeArment last evening, and many persons have already subscribed for an entire book of tickets. The tickets which are being sold entitle the holder to admission to the club house and cards. Those desiring to dance, will pay a small additional sum for this pleasure.

Ray Hughes is chairman of the dance committee and announced the additional names of E. J. Ryan, ticket seller; and Fred Englehart, ticket taker, for the dance. Harry Hammond will have charge of the music.

Ben Agnew reported that the card committee is well along in its arrangements, committees have been named at the meeting Wednesday evening. It was announced that pivot play will be the order of the evening, and the players will not progress. A table prize will be given at each table through the courtesy of Jack Gerson.

Following the report of the committees, Judge J. Norman Martin gave a talk on the work of the Red Cross and the importance of every one getting behind the project.

Another meeting of the general committee will be held Friday evening, January 27, when the committees are expected to give final reports.

Reservations for tables may be made with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Agnew, or any other member of the committee on cards or those selling tickets. Those expected to play, are urged to make their reservations for a table, as indications point to the fact that the house may be oversold for the evening.

Another feature announced last night was a fortune-telling booth, which will be in charge of Mrs. Charles W. Biles, Mrs. Lou Ray, Mrs. Katherine McGee, Miss Martha Bigley, Miss Mary Wilson, and Mrs. George Stoddard.

The addition of Odd J. H. Hart-suff to the general committee was announced by Chairman Alexander last evening.

The earth's southernmost city is Punta Arenas, at the extreme end of Patagonia on the Straits of Magellan. During the winter months it has only two hours of daylight.

The world was made in seven days. You see, it wasn't necessary to call anybody in for a conference.

Victim of Chain Gang Horror

Home again in Newark, N. J., after ten days in a Greenville County, South Carolina, chain gang, fourteen-year-old David Kraft is shown with his mother bandaging his bruised ankles. The youth, hitch-hiking through the South, was arrested and given a sentence of a $10 fine or thirty days in the chain gang. Not having the money, young Kraft served ten days before his father heard of his plight and paid the fine.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Windstorm Causes No Damage In Ward

No Serious Damage Resulting From Storm; Lights Flicker
Some Last Night

No serious damage is reported in seventh ward as a result of the windstorm of Thursday night. Although the storm caused lights in local homes to flicker off and on several times, the general report this morning from residents in different parts of the ward indicated that there was no loss of electricity power at any time.

There was a little telephone trouble a West Clayton street resident reports, explaining that the phone bell rang several times, apparently caused by a faulty connection somewhere.

BACK FROM FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Prater, of Wabash avenue, have returned home from Toy's Crossroads, Pa., where they were called by the death of Mrs. Prater's brother, John Toy. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon, with interment in the Cowansville church cemetery.

Mr. Toy passed away last Sunday night at the age of 79 years. He leaves his wife, 8 sons, 1 daughter, 61 grandchildren and 45 great-grandchildren.

BOOKS ARE ADDED

The Mahoningtown library has plus several volumes of interesting fiction on Thursday, with titles as follows: (They are on the rental shelf.)

Youth Must Laugh—Irwin; The Lost Trumpet—Mitchell; Mountain Born—Gowen; The Drift Fence—Zane Grey; Rolling Stone—Gray; Murder of the Lawyer's Clerk—Alfred A. Knopf.

As soon as the books pay for themselves they will be placed on the free shelves.

W. A. G. GATHERS

Mrs. Kenneth Walter, West Clayton street, was hostess to the W. A. G. club members at a pleasant gathering Thursday evening.

The hours passed quickly while members enjoyed games of 500.

Special guests were Mrs. C. H. Clark and Mrs. E. M. Jones. Ten members were present.

Arrangements for the next meeting will be announced later.

CIRCLE TEAM BOWS

The Circle Lumber Company bowling team bowed to the Liberty team Wednesday night in a set of three games played at Ellwood City. Results: Liberty, 926, 914, 1048 for three games, totaling 2888; and Circle, 951, 905, 973 for three games, totaling 2829. Liberty won two and lost one.

Observations In 7th Ward

Observed a new Seventh ward resident nibbling away contentedly at tufts of grass yesterday afternoon. It was a cute little pony on North Cedar street, fenced in a lot at the side of the McGuire house. The drill used in boring through cement on the P. & L. E. tunnel job never lacks admiring spectators. It is an interesting little instrument and noises it may right through anything. Fame of Berry, the bull trained to harness by a local druggist, is spreading fast and furious. After a story in The News, Berry crashed The Grift. Now an Ohio columnist has written an eulogy about the animal. Judging from the number of them scooting up and down Wabash avenue yesterday there must have been a chicken convention.

MAHONING BOOK CLUB

Mahoning Book club members were received Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. L. Jenkins, Sheridan avenue. The hours proved to be very pleasant for everyone. All members were present but three.

A lunch was served by Mrs. Jenkins, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Phillips and Mrs. M. L. Wallace.

It was decided to meet in two weeks at the Mackey home on Winter avenue.

CARPENTRY WORK

The passage way and steps leading from Liberty street to the new P. & L. E. station platform are being built this week. The lumber for the passage way was entirely in place Thursday afternoon. The carpenters are today laying the stairs.

O. R. C. LADIES

The ladies auxiliary of the O. R. C. met Thursday afternoon in the city hall, with the new president, Mrs. Rose Allen, in charge of the business session. Matter of a routine nature were discussed. The attendance was good.

PENNA-BO MEETING

A meeting of members of Penna-Bo Auxiliary will take place next Wednesday afternoon in the organization's new meeting place, the city building.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. George West, of Pittsburgh, returned home yesterday morning after a few days' visit with relatives. Mrs. R. G. Clark, of North Cedar street, who was taken ill in church last Sunday, is still confined to her bed, friends learn.

(International News Service) CHARLEROI, Pa., Jan. 20.—Captain J. K. Hein, glass company executive and president of city council for many years, pleaded with council a year ago for installation of a traffic light at the busy intersection near his firm's office. At that time he said: "Somebody will be killed there some day."

The light was installed. Hein was killed at the intersection today when struck by an automobile.

He was crossing the street, shortly before the signal was scheduled to operate, when the machine struck him.

The driver of the machine surrendered to police.

Offutt Gives Ideas On 'Share-The-Work' Program In County

One of the first plants in the county to adopt the "Share-the-Work" movement which is gaining ground rapidly, was the National Tube company of Ellwood City. John W. Offutt, plant manager put the system into effect and found through practical application to a large plant, that it worked.

Mr. Offutt was later made chairman of the Lawrence county "Share-the-Work" movement and has multiplied his own efforts many times. Commenting upon the plan both from the standpoint of an employer who has tried it out, and from observation of the effects of the plan upon industry, Mr. Offutt has the following to say:

The Share-the-Work plan has been in effect in a great many of the larger industrial units since the start of the depression, with the result that unemployment is lessened to that extent. When it was first adopted much resistance was encountered, both among plant executives and the employees, but, aside from the humanitarian aspect, many other advantages have developed that justifies its adoption.

In the first place, the employees quickly realized the spirit of fairness that prompted the movement and willingly sacrificed full time employment in order that their fellow workers could be retained on the payroll. They soon saw that it was a measure of security for all their jobs, and if work became scarcer, due to business conditions, they would be retained and share in what work was available. No one should under-rate the spirit of brotherly love that exists among the mass of workers.

Probably more resistance to the plan was exhibited by the employers, or rather their representatives in charge of men, when the plan was proposed. They believed that by weeding out the less efficient worker and retaining the best, the plant efficiency could be raised. Of course, no one can deny the soundness of this argument under conditions as they existed in 1930, but the reduction in available work has gone so far since then that there was not full time for the selected group of workers.

There are many advantages to the employer in having extra men available for every job.

In the first place, it provides greater flexibility of operation. Business comes to most plants in spurts, and usually the demand is for quick delivery. In these days, it is not good policy to carry large stocks of manufactured goods, due to falling and changeable markets, nor is it advisable to tie up too much money in inventory. Therefore, equipment and man power must be ready to operate up to 100 per cent capacity on short notice in order to satisfy customer's demands. Only by having a full complement of man power on call can these conditions be met.

Secondly, efficiency of workers is raised by competition. Not competition in securing jobs in the first place, but the competition that exists when more than one worker is available for each job. Too often employees get the idea that they alone have the skill to handle certain jobs, and this sense of superiority tends to lull them into a feeling of false security that lessens their efficiency. If another employee is given that job part of the week or part of the day, there is a spirit of rivalry as to which can make the best showing. This situation gives the employer opportunity to gauge the relative efficiency of employees and often solves the problem as to which one to promote.

Distribution of work often involves putting employees on new jobs. At once, resistance is met on both the part of the foreman and the employee, but experience has shown that previously undeveloped or hidden talent is often uncovered. The "breaking-in" expense is usually small and quickly repaid in increased efficiency arising from taking workers out of the "old rut".

The employer of today is making a serious mistake, who does not take advantage of these times to discover new talent and build up his organization to a point of efficiency that will enable him to meet the ever increasing competitive conditions. Adoption of the Share-the-Work plan will fortify organizations against the time when business will return to normal.

Makes Complaint Before Council

Mulcahey Charges That Low Wages Being Paid For Wrecking Work

SENDS TELEGRAM TO LABOR OFFICIALS

M. A. Mulcahey appeared before council meeting in the City building today and said he had been informed that a wage rate less than the prevailing wage rate for the district is being paid by the concern wrecking buildings on the Public Square, where the new post office is to be erected.

During the discussion between Mulcahey and councilmen he said men working on the Ellwood City post office job are paid 40 cents an hour. Mulcahey also stated that the Labor Department had been advised by telegram of the rate being paid here.

When council convened Mulcahey was asked if he had any business to transact with council.

Before he replied, Director of Safety D. O. Davies said: "We know why he is here. It is reported that men wrecking buildings on the Public Square are being paid below the prevailing wage for the district. If this is true, we should take some steps."

"The information I have gained is mostly hearsay," Mayor Charles B. Mayne stated.

"I would suggest that Mayor Mayne handle this," Councilman Louis Genkinger advised.

Mr. Mulcahey arose and said he had been told by a man (whose name he would not reveal openly) that he was being paid 25 cents an hour.

"I think it is not only a matter for council, but also one for the citizens of New Castle, to see that the prevailing rate is paid."

"I understand a telegram telling about this has been to the office of the Labor Department's secretary in Pittsburgh."

"The way to get action in such a case as this is to communicate with Senator David Reed," Solicitor White advised.

Mulcahey stated that the prevailing wage rate at Ellwood City is 40 cents an hour.

The government should make employers sign a contract with their men, Solicitor White declared, adding "that is the only way to make safe payment of the prevailing rate."

"It should not be necessary to have to do this. The employers should be legitimate," Councilman Genkinger declared.

Mulcahey said: "You cannot take men off the relief agencies by paying them only 25 cents an hour."

He said that a representative of the Labor Department, Pittsburgh district, would probably come here in response to a telegram which he said he had been informed had been sent to the department.

Vacant Buildings On P. O. Lot Show Razing Marks; Foreman Coming

A trained foreman of the Harris Wrecking Company, Chicago, will arrive here from Boston probably Monday to assume general supervision of the systematized razing of the vacant public square building occupy the new post office site, J. H. Eliscu, advance agent for the Harris concern, learned today.

On Thursday the wrecking project was launched with a small crew of workmen at the helm. More labor will be added when the foreman, Victor Ristow, reaches here.

The foreman of the local work has been supervising a Boston wrecking project for some time. Applicants for work milled about the diamond today in the hopes of finding employment, but it was announced by Mr. Eliscu that most of the workers already are hired.

Removal of plumbing fixtures throughout the vacated buildings and glass from windows constituted most of the work of yesterday although in some sections of the building portions of walls were torn out.

"The people didn't vote for beer in the last election—they voted for bread," Dr. Wilson said.

He charged the rich were conspiring to pass the beer bill in congress, adding:

"Prohibition has done well by the American people, misrepresented as it has been, manhandled by the press and headed by a Pennsylvania man who owns the overholt distillery. It is the greatest advance in 1,900 years."

The Five Year Plan achieved one remarkable thing. It finished the allotted time in four years and three months.

Forty Thousand Auto Accidents In State During Past Year

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 20.—The vast majority of the approximately 40,000 motor accidents in Pennsylvania during 1934 did not "just happen"—they were caused.

This fact stands out from among the mass of statistics gathered by the Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle Bureau for its annual analysis of accident and highway accident causes. Complete reports for November and December are not yet available, but on the basis of the first ten months, in which 33,525 accidents were reported, the P. M. V. figures that the total for the entire year will reach the 40,000 mark.

In nearly every instance, the statistics show, carelessness on the part of someone was responsible for the crash. Up to November 1 a total of 1,526 were killed in 1,410 accidents. The dead included 72 children under four years and 185 men and women over sixty-five. The injured totaled 34,411.

Among other interesting facts revealed in the Federation's survey are these:

6443 of the accidents reported occurred because speed was too fast for existing conditions.

Driving on the wrong side of the road is given as the cause of 3,917 wrecks.

The weather was clear when 26,358 wrecks occurred, and 25,555 of the crashes happened on dry roads.

Vehicles involved in accidents reported in the first ten months of 1934 totaled 54,103. Of these 45,499 were passenger cars. "In apparently good condition," says the State

Bureau of Motor Vehicle's findings on 47,354 vehicles involved in accidents.

Glaring headlights caused 254 wrecks. Drunken operators figured in 880 crashes, and 240 drivers who had wrecks were asleep.

Because they turned left without warning 3,387 drivers had crashes. Only 4,180 women drivers figured in wrecks, compared with 49,302 men. Of 54,103 operators involved in crashes 46,302 had been driving more than a year, and 666 less than three months.

Of 33,525 accidents in the period from January 1 to November 1, 9,792 were at intersections, 6,359 between intersections, 2,147 at rural road crossings, 8,430 on straight stretches in the country, 3,835 at curves, 1,950 on hills, 260 at railroad crossings, 546 at bridges, and 206 are listed under the heading of "miscellaneous."

The facts and figures for 1932 tell the same old story of human frailties in motor car operation," said S. Edward Gable, president of the P. M. V., in commenting on the accident reports. "They stress more graphically than can mere words the importance of driving carefully and cautiously at all times. If motorists will resolve now, as the new year gets under way, to observe the slogan of the Governor's Safety Committee—"Take Time To Be Safe!"—the street and highway accident survey for Pennsylvania at the end of 1935 will tell a far different and much more pleasant story than does the one for 1932."

No inquiries or reports of a missing girl had been made to police today.

Jesus Forgives Sin

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

GOLDEN TEXT—Mark 2:10—"The Son of Man hath authority on earth to forgive sins."

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above subject for Jan. 22 is Mark 2:1-12, the Golden Text Mark 2:10, "The Son of Man hath authority on earth to forgive sins.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

If "a friend in need is a friend indeed," the paralytic of our lesson had four friends who were friends indeed. The measure of their friendship was not the difficulties in the way, but the extent of their friend's need and his own helpfulness to meet that need.

Jesus had no difficulty in drawing a crowd. His difficulty was rather in avoiding the crowds that better teaching might be done. But even when he withdrew from the cities and "was without in desert places; they came to him from every quarter. And when he entered again into Capernaum after some days it was noised that he was at home. And many were gathered together, so that there was no longer room for them, no not even about the door; and he spake the word unto them."

The teaching of the Word of God was the magnet that drew the crowds to our Saviour. Repeatedly "they pressed upon him to hear the Word of God."

Of course there was much of idle curiosity, and Jesus never encouraged this. But there was also much genuine heart hunger, and Jesus never disappointed this. He fed the people upon the things of God for which their souls hungered and "the common people heard him gladly."

"Where there is a will there is a way," even when it is the will to help someone else rather than ourselves. The four friends who brought the paralytic to Jesus were undaunted when they could not gain admittance to the house of Simon where Jesus was teaching the crowd that packed the house to the doors and overflowed into the yard. They climbed the steps to the flat roof and removed the matting or other light roofing material and lowered their helpless friend, mat and all, into the presence of Jesus where room was quickly made for those whose earnestness and determination challenged the attention of all. Far from disrupting or even interrupting the sermon, the interruption became the sermon's clearest illustration.

"Jesus seeing their faith saith unto the sick of the palsy, Son, be of good cheer, thy sins are forgiven."

A Strange Diagnosis

That was a surprising diagnosis of this man's need! Who said anything about sins or forgiveness? Is that why these men have gone to all their trouble in tearing up the roof and lowering their friend? Why not say, "Son, be of good cheer, thy paralysis is cured?" Because the Good Physician aimed not at accidental symptoms, but at fundamental causes.

Man's deepest need is spiritual rather than physical. Sin is more depressing than sickness and more deadly. Christ's authority to minister in this realm of divine prerogatives was questioned by those who took him for a man only instead of the God-man, and they charged him with blasphemy. But he vindicated his authority to "restore my soul" by exercising demonstrable power to heal the body, giving as his reason, "That ye may know that the Son of Man hath power on earth to forgive sins."

It was an amazing claim, amazingly demonstrated as the man took up his bed and walked forth before them all. Christ Jesus is a Saviour who "cleanseth us from all sin."

Meyer Speaker At Convention

Addresses National Retail Dry Goods Association In New York

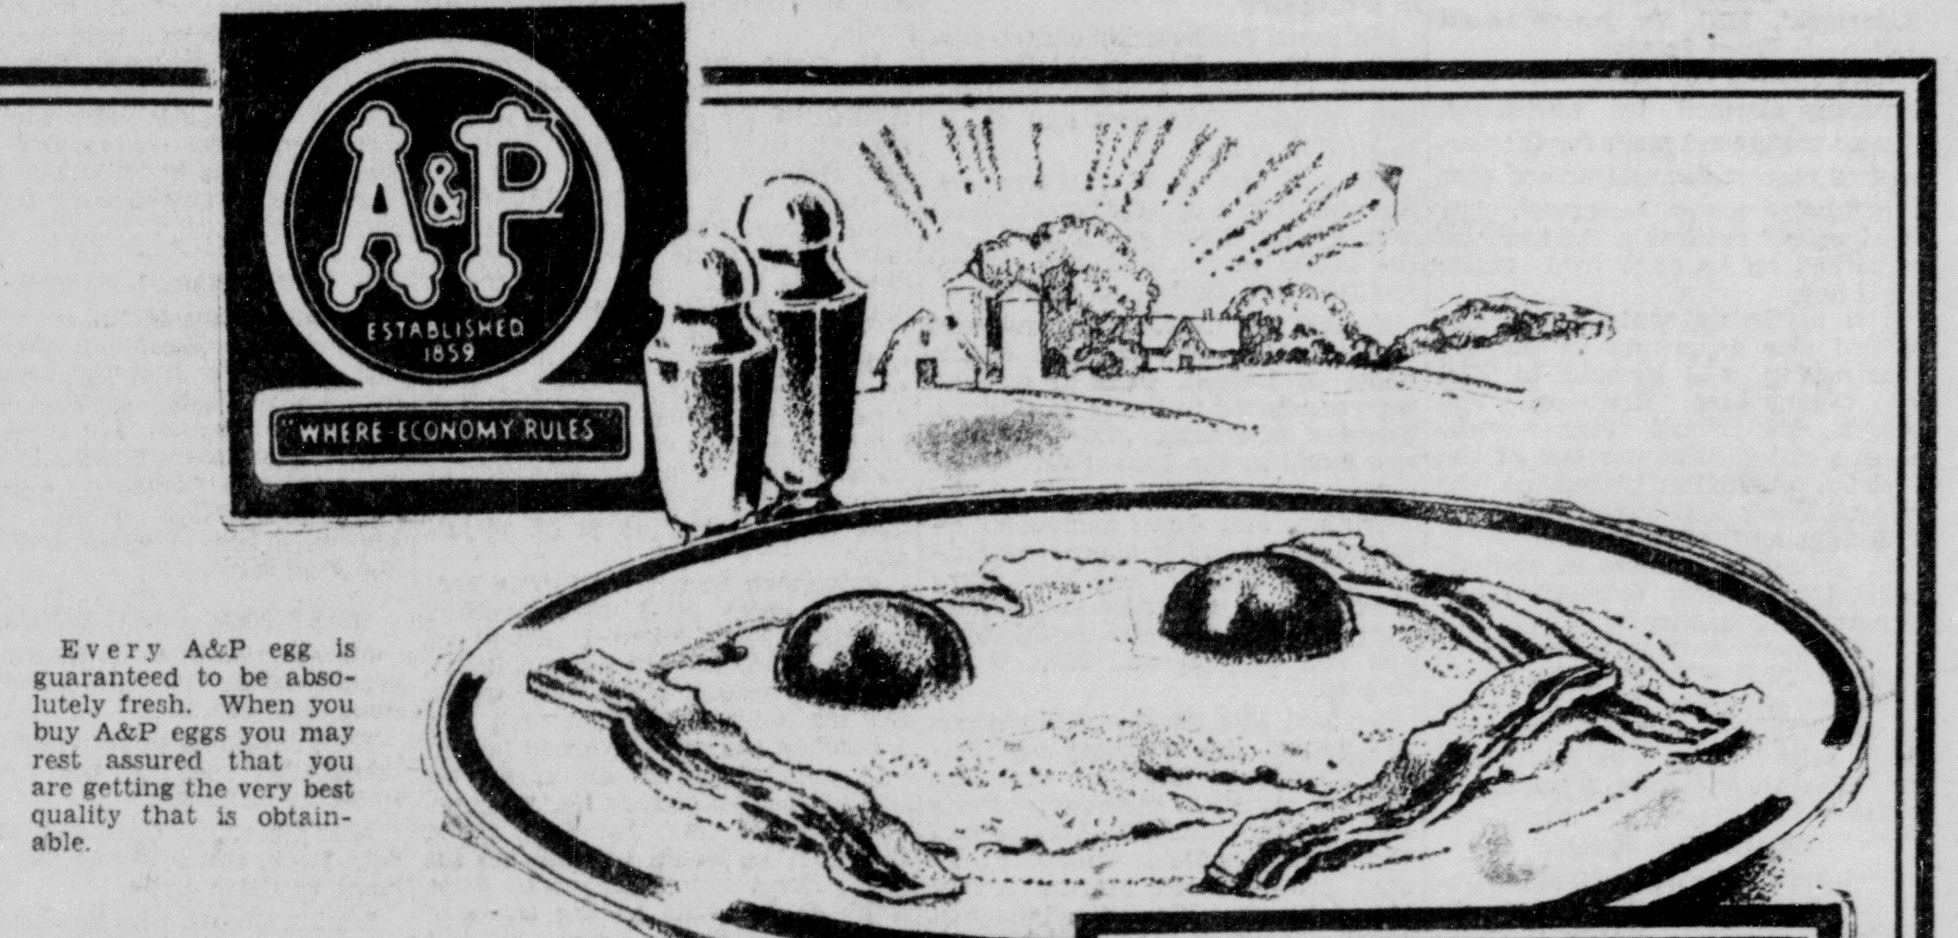

(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Jerold S. Meyer, merchandise manager of a New Castle department store, addressed the twenty-second annual convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Association here on the subject "Problems of Branch Store Management." The convention, which has been on all this week, is being attended by about 4,000 delegates from all sections of the country.

Sylvan Gotshal, a principal speaker, attacked technocracy's being presented as a means of ending the depression. "The chief cause of the depression," he averred, "is technocracy. There is entirely too much talk of theories, statistics, charts and data. The trouble is not with the machine but with the men who control the machine."

Germans Launch New Battleship

"Vest-Pocket" Edition of Battleship Launched; Report Blue Prints Stolen

IS NEW IDEA IN SHIP BUILDING

By WALTER DIETZEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

KIEL, Germany, Jan. 20.—With Germany alarmed by widespread rumors that secret plans for the vessel had been stolen and turned over to a foreign power, Germany's new "vest-pocket" battleship Deutschland embarked on its first trial cruise Thursday.

The battleship, which embodies radical new departures in warship construction, was brought to Kiel by Commander Hermann Von Fischel, 46-year old former submarine officer who was one of the German militarists placed on the war criminals list drawn up by the Allies during the World War. In publishing rumors of the alleged theft, many German newspapers drew a parallel between it and the now famous pilfering of Field Marshal Von Schlieffen's program for attacking France by way of Belgium, which was stolen ten years before the World War broke out. This theft is now a matter of history.

Commander Von Fischel said: "I know nothing of these rumors. Just before the Deutschland started out, Commander Von Fischel explained the significance of the vessel in an exclusive interview with International News Service. The commander indicated his agreement with the belief of many naval authorities that the Deutschland may revolutionize the defensive navies of the world."

But even if blueprints of the ship's plans have been stolen, it would be most difficult for anyone to construct a replica of the Deutschland. "This is because of the infinite technical details involved. We ourselves are not yet certain of their efficacy."

"The ship will require at least a year of trial cruises before it has been thoroughly tested."

COMPLAINS OF HIS ARREST ON AUTO CHARGE

M. Gene Winter Protests Arrest — Officer Says Law Was Violated

In a letter to The News today, M. Gene Winter of 26 East street complains of his being arrested by the State Highway Patrol and ordered to appear before Alderman J. P. Brice for violation of the motor code in driving without lights. Following the receipt of the letter The News made an investigation of the case and the following statements were made.

M. Gene Winter, "On Saturday January 14, I had a business trip to Harbor Street about 6:30 p. m. On my way back to my place of business the lights of my car went out. I stopped at a gasoline station on State street and Highway Patrolman Stoops came in and asked me about the lights. He ordered me to appear at the patrol barracks within 24 hours and show my cards which I did. Later I received a notice from Alderman Brice stating that I was charged with violation of the motor code, and that the fine and costs in such a case were $12.25 or 5 days in jail if I was guilty. I believe the prosecution is an unjust one."

Patrolman Stoops, "Saturday evening, January 14, I was patrolling up State street when I saw a car coming down the hill without lights. I turned around and as the driver saw me following him he went into a gasoline station. I followed him in and asked him for his cards. He had neither an owner's nor an operator's license card with him. I told him that he would have to get his lights fixed before he could drive away as it might be the cause of an accident if he drove without lights. I left, and learned that he had driven his car away without getting the lights repaired after I had warned him. I then placed a charge against him for driving without lights, and he is still liable to arrest for driving without owner or operator's license."

Alderman James P. Brice, "Patrolman Stoops filed an information in my office charging M. Gene Winter with driving without lights. Following the wording of the Motor Code I notified Mr. Winter and he came to the office. I informed him that a charge had been made against him, that he would be given a hearing if he desired to contest the charge and that if he did not wish a hearing he could plead guilty and pay the fine of $10 and costs of $2.25. I have no other knowledge of the case. If Mr. Winter wishes a hearing he can have it any time before January 28. My duty as an alderman is clearly defined by the law and I merely followed the law."

"Buy American" Campaign Takes Definite Form

Legion Has Arranged For Posters To Be Placed In Stores And Homes

Campaign sponsored by the American Legion to "Buy American Made Goods and Put American Workmen to Work" today assumed definite active form in this city.

Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, chairman of Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion "Buy American" committee has arranged for posters to be displayed by merchants in their stores and smaller ones for use in automobiles and at homes and Alderman James Brice has been named as chairman of the distribution committee.

The posters are handsomely lithographed in the national colors and bear the legend "Be American" and "Buy American Made Goods."

The posters remind the general public of the days of the World War, when there was seen on every side, posters advertising the Liberty Bonds, or especially in private homes, of the fact that there was some one in the service, or perhaps of the Red Cross posters that were shown in homes where the Red Cross had been aided.

The posters, of necessity, cost something to get out, and they will be offered the general public and merchants at a small amount to cover their cost and also pay for their distribution.

One thing they will do is to increase temporarily the number of employed persons, who in this instance will be ex-service men, who will receive a small percentage of the amount charged for the posters, to remunerate them in distributing the posters.

These posters will definitely designate the store and the business houses, also the homes, where Americanism prevails, the Legion says, to that extent that it plans to buy American made goods whenever possible and in that way stimulate American industry.

And remember this, the posters are American made, sold by Americans and will be displayed by Americans, who believe in America.

Catarrhal Deafness Can Be Relieved

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness or head noises due to catarrh will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected relief after other treatments have failed.

Secure from Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., or your druggist one ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add 1/2 pint hot water and a little sugar. A tablespoonful four times a day should stop distressing catarrhal head noises, improve hearing, make breathing easier and dry up mucous discharge. All catarrh sufferers need Parmit.

School's Art Rating Wins State Honors

Word from Harrisburg recently brought news to the Senior high school's progressive art department that it, together with art departments of two other high schools in Pennsylvania, will submit designs to be employed on covers of the volume carrying a new state course of study in art education. The publication will appear within the coming year.

The announcement came to Miss Bess Galley, who heads the art department.

Specifications of the designs have been received and art students next semester will commence work on them.

IN MIDST OF EXAMS
The fateful hour has arrived once more. Everyone from dignified seniors to less dignified sophomores is openly or secretly worried: the sophomores because they have never seen what a real exam looks like, and the upper-classmen because they have seen them too many times before.

Exams started Wednesday morning January 18, and they will continue all this week and next week. The new semester begins on Friday morning, January 27, 1933.

Recorder Copies Old Records To Keep Force Busy

BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 20.—During the lull in the business of the office of Register and Recorder Capt. James W. Mackall, his clerks are making typewritten copies of old dockets and documents.

Some of these records are more than 100 years old and all are written in longhand. In some instances the ink has faded and difficult to read. The old records are typed into new books, and carefully compared to admit of no errors.

The county's earliest records of property transfers date back to late in the 18th century and many of the transactions were made for many pounds and shillings as the currency of England was then in use.

Letter Writers Fail To Sign Their Names

Many Anonymous Communications Being Received At Commissioners Office

County commissioners have been receiving a number of letters of late from persons who purport to be giving information regarding persons who are receiving relief, and whom the writers believe are not entitled to it.

The trouble with the most of the letters is that the writers do not sign their names. A number of cases brought to the attention of the commissioners in this way have been investigated, with the result that it has been found unreliable, sometimes prompted by spite. Some person who has been refused aid does not want to see some one else get it.

The commissioners have a hard job to handle. Quite often the circumstances surrounding individual cases are misrepresented. Some have asked the cooperation of all good citizens in seeing that the needy are taken care of, and that the unworthy are eliminated, but they do expect letter writers to sign their names. These names will not be made public. They are only for the information of the commissioners, and there should be no hesitancy on the part of citizens who write letters to sign their names. It is an evidence of good faith, even if the writers are found to be mistaken in their complaints.

Genkinger Gets Report Of Hearing On Canal Project At Capital

Louis Genkinger, president of the chamber of commerce, has received a copy of the testimony given at a hearing on the report of the proposed improvement of the Mahoning, Beaver, Shenango rivers which was held at Washington, D. C., recently.

Among those who gave testimony was J. C. Argetsinger, counsel for the chamber of commerce, Youngstown, O. In opening his testimony he said that "this is an appeal by the Youngstown chamber of commerce from an unfavorable report by the division engineer, Upper Mississippi Valley division on the proposed improvement of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers, Pennsylvania and Ohio."

He said "the report was based upon a thorough and comprehensive survey of the rivers and the Shenango and embraced the problem of making the three rivers navigable. The committee has filled its written appeal and has requested this opportunity to present views orally."

"The Youngstown chamber represents the industrial, commercial and professional life of the Youngstown district comprising 750,000 people," he declared. He gave the assessed value of the property as about $750,000,000 and this represents substantially over a billion in investment before depreciation, obsolescence, etc., owned by shareholders residing in all parts of the United States.

"We do not question the general results of the government survey," he stated adding "we welcome it as the most complete study of the problem yet made. But we do dispute certain of its findings and we contend that the improvement of the Beaver from the Ohio river to New Castle, where the Mahoning and Shenango unite, and the improvement of the Mahoning from that point to Struthers, a total distance of 34 miles should be made."

He cited reasons as follows: first, the distance is the only important iron and steel district not enjoying water transportation and second, we are at a disadvantage over our competitors who enjoy lower costs for assembling raw materials and sending out finished products."

He said that in 1929 "we produced in the valleys 17 1/2 percent of the nation's pigiron, 78 percent of Indiana and Illinois combined; and 96 percent as much as England.

That year we produced 181 percent as much pigiron as Belgium, 55 percent of Germany, 71 1/2 percent of France with Alsace Lorraine and 20.8 percent as much as England, France, Belgium and Germany combined.

"In 1929, we made more steel ingots and castings in the district than any state except Pennsylvania or 6,700,000 tons. This was four times Canada's output and twice the number of blast furnaces.

"Our per capita production in 1929 shows best perhaps the dependence of the entire population within the district." He said statistics indicated facts as follows:

"The fact that the valleys area generally called the Youngstown district is dependent upon the steel industry."

"That an improved waterway restoring the district to a commanding and competitive position will benefit the railroads, which inevitably must transport the bulk of raw material and most of the finished product."

"To drive this enormous industry from the district will force it to a water location, railroads will lose much of the traffic which they always carry to and from the district, will dry up the area eventually with a loss of billions of dollars in investments and drive away thousands of steel employees who spend millions of dollars in stores, real estate and among the professions."

Argetsinger said that it cannot be doubted that "our district must obtain the benefits of water transportation costs if it shall continue to exist, even without expansion."

"The improvement of the Beaver and Mahoning rivers as recommended by us will achieve these benefits wherever practicable from economic and engineering viewpoints."

Secretary Mills Against Inflation Of Currency

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—"Disinflation of dollars" is Secretary Mills' description of an inflationary process that would be brought about by the issuance of un-secured paper money.

The Secretary went on record against starting the printing presses to increase the volume of currency in circulation at the time a measure was before the House of Representatives to provide for the immediate payment, in treasury notes, of the face value of the bonus certificates. Since that time Mills has not changed his opinion. In view of present conditions he is even more determined in opposition to inflation of that type.

Obtaining money for any governmental purpose, "not by raising the funds through taxation, not by drawing on the public credit, not by payment of an honest dollar, but by setting the printing presses to work printing dishonest dollars," he declared as disastrous.

"It has been resorted to time and again, and I know of no instance where it has failed to bring retribution and disaster," Mills said.

"There is no reason I can conceive to justify the government of the United States resorting to printing presses to meet its obligations. This is a question that involves the courage, the character, and the financial integrity of the United States."

"I can imagine, a poor, bankrupt people, at the end of their resources and as a last act of desperation, resorting to the debasement of their currency. But for a great, powerful nation, probably the strongest nation economically not only in the world today, but that has ever existed in the world, that even in a period of deep depression has not begun to call upon its ultimate reserves and resources, deliberately to adopt this insidious and essentially dishonest device, would to my mind be worse than an act of financial bankruptcy. It would constitute moral bankruptcy."

Mills declared if there is one lesson in economic history on which all are agreed, it is the extreme difficulty of stopping an inflationary process of this kind, short of such complete debacle as reduce the currency to worthless paper.

Mills pointed out there is no currency shortage in the United States. He admitted that there has been credit contraction, but added that there exist ample reserves on which to base a credit expansion adequate to meet all of our actual and potential needs.

"The problem is to put credit to work," Mills declared. "The government cannot bring this about by forcing out fiat currency."

Britain Will Seek Revision Of War Debts

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Indication that Great Britain may reopen negotiations for revision of war debts before the inauguration of President-elect Roosevelt, provided he co-operates, was voiced in Whitehall circles today.

"The British case for revision is known to the world, and is ready for presentation to the United States as soon as the proper authorities there ask for it," an official Whitehall spokesman said.

"But in no sense will Great Britain send a war debt mission to the United States until assured it will receive an authoritative hearing."

PINCHOT FOES TO PROBE HIGHWAY PROGRAM

Committee To Begin Efforts

Bills Are Introduced Into Legislature Affecting State Highway System

LIGHT ROADS ARE SOURCE OF ATTACK

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—State administration opponents today were satisfied they have steamed up the legislature to a point where nothing will prevent a through-going exploration of highway department affairs.

Mindful that mere passage of a bill to reorganize the department would not assure them success, leaders of the movement struck out with an investigation as their groundwork. Gov. Gifford Pinchot, with a veto of any highway bill they passed, might thwart their plans, but the investigation, provided by joint resolution, is powerless to halt. The committee, as assembly committee go, has unlimited power.

The house members of the investigating committee have been named, the Democrats failing to win an assignment to the group. Rep. Fred C. Peters, Montgomery, chairman of the standing house committee on highways, fortified with a wealth of data he has already assembled, will direct the inquiry. Named with him are Rep.

Morton Witkin, Philadelphia, and Rep. W. Albertson Haines, Bucks county. With the appointment of the three senators, expected Monday night, the committee will be ready to start functioning.

Confirmed Pinchot Critics.

The committee personnel, of course, will be decidedly anti-Pinchot. Peters and Witkin are confirmed administration and highway department critics. Haines is a follower of former Senator Joseph Grundy. And Grundy and Samuel S. Lewis, secretary of highways are friends.

As chairman of the senate committee on public roads and highways, Senator Fred T. Gelder, Susquehanna, is expected to rate an assignment to the committee. He, too, is opposed to Governor Pinchot's policies and is aligned with the Republican organization.

The inquiry, despite the phraseology of the resolution which authorized it, will not be confined merely to a determination of whether continuance of the building of light type rural roads is feasible. Organization leaders view it as the opening wedge to lay bare their charges that the governor used road construction to enhance his political interests. The executive has flayed denied every one of a half-dozen charges that discrimination was made in the employment of road workers.

Anti-Pinchot leaders anticipate, too, the probe will become the bedrock of their movement, through actual legislation, to take the control of road building out of the governor's hands. The highway department has been singled out as the keystone of their program to decentralize government operation and authority.

Two bills designed to effect their plan have been introduced. Rep. George L. Reed the other. Both would set up a highway commission. Either would give the executive branch only minority representation on the commission which would regulate highway department affairs. Both, hence, are certain of veto if they ever reach the governor's desk.

FEED GOOD COWS WELL TO GET CHEAPEST MILK

A dairy cow's requirements in milk production do not fluctuate with feed prices or with milk prices.

Regardless of whether prices go up or down, the dairyman who carefully feeds his cows according to their individual needs is the one who will make the most money.

With low prices prevailing for milk, the dairyman with an eye to improving present conditions and future prospects in his herd should weed out all low-producing cows and feed those remaining more carefully and better than before. The good cow should have a rest of 6 to 8 weeks between milking periods and be well fed during that time.

The result will be cheaper production costs after the next freshening.

This is no time for guesswork on the dairy farm. The milk from each cow should be carefully weighed at regular intervals and the information thus obtained used as a basis for determining her fate. If her feed is good and production low, her removal from the herd will stop a serious loss. If her production is good, the milk weights are a dependable guide as to the amount of grain she should have. Too much or too little grain increases production costs.

Dairyman should use scales regularly in weighing the milk of each cow and frequently in determining the amount of grain each cow should have at a feed.

KEYSTONE HENS IMPROVE IN LAYING EFFICIENCY

Pennsylvania hens have a long way to go before they lay enough eggs to supply the demand of consumers living in the state. Poultry flocks elsewhere contribute a large share of the eggs sold in Keystone markets.

Census figures show that in 1920 the average hen in Pennsylvania laid 61 eggs a year. In 1930 the average production a hen was 93 eggs an increase of approximately 50 per cent for the 10 year period. The total production increased from 73,646,591 dozens in 1920 to 119,624,063 dozens in 1930. While the production was increasing 50 per cent for each hen, the total number of hens increased from 14,503,468 to 15,446,514 or only about six per cent. This is evidence of greater efficiency per unit, which is the keynote of the poultry extension program in Pennsylvania.

Poultry is kept on 90 per cent of the farms in Pennsylvania, and the average sized farm flock contains 90 hens. Eighty five to 90 per cent of the hens are kept in flocks of fewer than 500 hens.

According to the 1930 census, there are 3.7 chickens for each inhabitant of the United States. Nearly all the eggs produced by these birds are used at home, for only a small percentage are exported. On this basis, any district, county or state having more than 3.7 birds per inhabitant is a surplus-producing area and any section having less is an under-production area.

Pennsylvania had 1.6 hens for each resident, according to the 1930 census. The state, as a whole, is on under-production area. There are, however, 20 of the 67 counties in the state which produce a surplus of eggs.

In Pennsylvania there are 102 cities of more than 10,000 residents each. These centers of population provide markets for the eggs from surplus-producing counties of this and other states. From the standpoint of markets, the Pennsylvania poultryman is far more fortunate than producers in most of the states. This the poultrymen of other areas have discovered and Pennsylvania producers are continually improving the quality of their eggs to meet competition.

PLAN ECONOMICAL POTATO DISEASE CONTROL PROGRAM

Control of potato diseases will play an important part in the economical production of the 1933 crop. Growers planning to save on the production cost for the coming season should first carefully consider the best possibilities for economy.

The possibility of economy through reducing the cash outlay for disease control is limited if it is to be done without materially reducing the yield. Compromising on either seed or spraying may so reduce the yield and impair the quality as to eliminate the possibility of savings through lower costs per bushel or systematic marketing. Some saving on cash outlay can be made, however, by careful planning and management to reduce unnecessary costs and duplication, by pooling orders for spray materials and seed, by proper care of the sprayer and spray equipment to reduce repair and replacement, and by the efficient use of labor and power.

Records over a period of years show that the grower's best change for economy is through a lower cost per bushel. The grower can best accomplish this by increasing his yield per acre. The use of disease-free or high-yielding seed and proper spraying have consistently been responsible for large increases in yield. To this increase must be added, the improvement in quality and the increase in the per cent of marketable tubers.

To help accomplish this increased yield and improved quality in the 1933 crop the grower must have an acreage in keeping with the ability to obtain or use good seed and to spray properly. Well-stored seed of a proven source and parentage should be used. Growers should guard against the causes of poor stands, a number of which are of a disease nature. A minimum of 10 sprays should be applied, using recommended spray materials. Early sprays are important, as in the control of weeds, which harbor disease and interfere with the ability of the seed to produce a maximum yield. Weeds also interfere with thorough spraying.

The first necessity to systematic marketing is quality. When stem-end discoloration or some other tuber-borne disease traceable to the use of inferior seed, or late blight rot due to the lack of spraying, reduce the quality of the crop, any attempt at systematic marketing or influencing the trade is out of the question. Production of a quality product, with the elimination of tuber-borne disease and rots by careful harvesting and handling, is important. Favorable storage will play a big part in preventing losses from rot, freezing and shriveling, and aid in a more orderly marketing of the crop.

DON'T LET COMMON CONSTIPATION DULL THE JOY OF LIVING

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation takes the sunshine out of your days. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness, sallow skins, pimples. If neglected, it can seriously impair health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this condition by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than dosing yourself with patent medicines. Two tablespoonsful of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Chicago Girl Is Believed "Hoodoo" Of All Gangsters

Sol Feldman, Latest Sweetheart Of Margaret Mary Collins, Is In Hospital

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Gangland watched with bated breath today the contest between medical science and the underworld superstition that Margaret Mary Collins' kisses invariably mean death.

Should Sol Feldman die on his cot in Mother Cabrini hospital he will become the eighth of Margaret Mary's sweethearts to die after knowing her kisses.

Dion O'Banion, gang leader and bitter foe of Al Capone, was the first sweetheart of the girl, known to police as the "kiss of death" girl, to be killed. Johnny Phillips, Gene McLaughlin, Johnny Sheehy, Jew Bates, Irving Schlig and Sam Katz, were other underworld characters to die by the gun after Margaret Mary kissed them, police records show.

Feldman was shot and wounded November 29 after smashing a furrier's window and stealing a fur coat.

Almost fully recuperated, he left the hospital recently. But Feldman had a relapse yesterday and was carried back to Mother Cabrini hospital.

House Committee Postpones Action On Budget Balance

Ways And Means Committee Postpones Action Till Special Session

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The house ways and means committee, by a strictly party vote of 14 to 10, today formally postponed budget balancing tax legislation until the expected special session of congress in April.

The committee voted down the proposal of Republican members to immediately begin consideration of the manufacturers' excise tax and a one cent a gallon increase in the tax on gasoline.

By this action, which confirmed the stand taken by Democratic members early this week, a special session in the Roosevelt administration was made inevitable, because of the necessity of considering means to end the increasing treasury deficit.

New Castle To Play Ellwood City Tonight

Coach Bridenbaugh To Take New Castle High Quintet To Ellwood City

Tonight New Castle High School basketball team will meet another tough floor foe, when they go to Ellwood City for a Section Three game with the Ellwood City High quintet coached by "Gandy" Benedict. Coach Bridenbaugh gave the New Castle team a polishing off on Thursday afternoon at Washington High floor, and feels that the locals will put up a good game.

So far New Castle has taken the measure of Rochester, New Brighton and Beaver Falls to top the section. If they can get over this Ellwood City hurdle, they will be on their way to glory. But, right now that Ellwood game is a stickler, and it looms as one of the best of the year.

Lineup Stands
Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh will rely on his regulars to carry the New Castle burden, with Johnny Uram and John Teplica flipping in from the forward berths, Archie Ridley jumping at center and Walter Komlinic and Lester "Bus" Reiber handling the guard posts. Captain Uram's scholastic career is about ended, and he will try and play his customary good game against the Ellwoodians.

Ellwood City will present Bolotin and Lattiano at the forwards, Barnes at center and Burney and Vandello at the guards. Johnson is another man who may break into the game at any time for Ellwood City, while Battley will be the first string New Castle reserve.

The trip to Ellwood will be made in machines, according to Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner. Quite a large crowd of New Castle fans will no doubt accompany the New Castle team.

Babe Ruth May Quit Baseball

Famous Home Run Hitter Has Saved Up About $400,000 For Rainy Weather

WILL NOT ACCEPT SALARY OF $50,000

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—For the first time in his career, Babe Ruth, greatest star of baseball, today openly threatened to quit the game that has brought him fame and riches beyond the dreams of avarice.

In an exclusive interview with the International News Service, Ruth declared that if Col. James Ruppert, owner of the N. Y. Yankees, refused to listen to reason and rejected his compromise offer to take a 10 percent or 15 percent cut in his $75,000 salary, and insisted on his playing this year for $50,000, he would "turn in his shoes."

Has Saved $400,000.

At the same time Ruth revealed the fact that he has something like $400,000 saved up today, with more coming in, and that he could step down at this moment without the slightest financial embarrassment.

"I'm not so hard up that I have to play ball," said Babe. "I'm crazy about the game, of course, but necessity won't drive me into signing at an unreasonable figure."

"I've got about $400,000 saved up and that's not chicken feed even at six percent? Twenty four grand? Well, I can live on that all right."

It costs me about $18,000 a year to live. A wife and two daughters and an eleven room apartment cost something but there's quite a margin between this $18,000 and $24,000.

"Another thing, When I'm 45—that'll be in about six more years—I'll start drawing $1,500 a month for life on one of those insurance things and that ain't chicken feed either."

Is In Good Shape
The Babe, looking more slender at 227 pounds than he has been in years, puffed reflectively on a big black cigar and remarked:

"Here's another thing. Bet I could pull a Jack Dempsey and referee fights. I know the fight racket pretty well and I think I could do as good a job as anybody. And don't overlook exhibition golf matches. I'm in the low 70's now and if I were playing every day I'd give anybody a battle. Yeah, there's plenty of ways for making dough besides playing ball if a guy has to do it."

It was suggested that very few men, including bank presidents, drew $50,000 a year salary at which Babe promptly snorted: "Yeah? Well, don't forget there's very few Babe Ruths packing them into the ball parks."

"They tell me I've drawn nearly $800,000 up to 1932. I never figured it up exactly but supposing I did—didn't I earn it? Didn't I draw plenty of fans into the ball parks in the last ten years? And how much do the Yankees make on exhibitions? You said it—plenty."

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Max Baer just hungers for the "opportunity" to trade punches with anybody, especially Champion Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling, the ex-champion.

The California heavyweight, now dividing his time between preparing a defense to a heart balm suit and sitting gray hairs in the head of his manager, displays no indication, as usual, of selling himself short. "Boy, boy," enthuses Max, "I can hardly wait for that June fight with Schmeling. And then it's on to Sharkey for Maxie the Baer, just like Grant—wasn't it Grant?—went on to Richmond—or some place."

Furthermore, Baer doesn't care where his bout with the German is held. "Jack Dempsey holds the contracts and it's o. k. with me where he places the battle," continued Max. "I'll fight either in New York or Chicago, or any place, I don't care where I knock Schmeling out."

Kid Chocolate Is Barred From U. S. By Regulations

Scheduled Chocolate-Watson Fight Week From Tonight May Be Postponed

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Kid Chocolate's troubles with U. S. immigration authorities at Key West, Fla., threatened today to cause the cancellation of the Cuban's scheduled bout with Seaman Watson, British featherweight champion, at Madison Square Garden a week from tonight.

James J. Johnson, Garden boxing director, said early today he would substitute Fidel La Barba of Los Angeles for Chocolate against Watson if the Cuban is unable to gain admission to the States by tonight. If Chocolate eventually smooths out his difficulties he will box the winner here later.

The Chocolate tangle climaxed a series of misfortunes for the Garden, which was kept idle twice in December on fight nights due to injuries to main events. The Billy Petrolle-Bep Van Klaveren bout, originally scheduled for tonight, had to be called off when the Dutchman allegedly fractured his hand.

Ernie Shaaf-Primo Carnera fight, slated for February 10, is threatened with postponement due to Schaaf's illness and the unwillingness of Carnera's manager to go through with the bout at $30,000.

Babe Ruth Says $50,000 Is Not Enough For Him

Ruth Intimates He May Take Cut To $62,000 Or $64,000 For Season Of 1933

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Babe Ruth offered the olive branch to the New York Yankees Thursday when he said he was willing to compromise in his salary dispute with the club. "I am willing to take a ten or 15 percent cut in salary," said the great hitter, "and something around $62,000 or $64,000 would be all right."

Ruth, who was paid $75,000 last season, was offered $50,000 for this year's choice by Colonel Jack Ruppert, owner of the Yankees.

Eintrachts Will Play Saturday

Eintracht basketball team will play the Homestead Saxons at the St. Marys floor Saturday night in a league game. Last year these two teams played one of the best games of the year at the local floor. It required two extra-periods to decide the issue, and Homestead won by two points.

This year the Eintrachts are out for revenge and hope to take the measure of the Homestead team. Coach Kroen has been putting the team through some stiff workouts in preparation for the game. The Eintracht girls will play the Homestead girls in the preliminary game at 7 o'clock.

ST. JOSEPHS WIN

St. Josephs basketball team handed the Atlantic A. C. a 22 to 3 defeat last night. The stars of the game were Bullano, Bartberger and Fleeger. For games with the St. Josephs call 9007 and ask for Richard, from 6 to 9, or call 5466 and ask for Donald.

Davies, Belmont, Witz Box Here Same Night

One night in August 1928, three boys crawled through the ropes in as many different bouts. They all became quite well known, two of them as mighty good fighters and the other as a manager of two boys who are now Pittsburgh's drawing cards.

The boys were Willie Davies, Jimmie Belmont and Abe Witz. Davies took on Jose Allano, the Cuban and heavy weight of the 10 rounds. Vivio won a six round decision from Belmont, despite his runaway tactics and Tony Canzoni whipped Abe Witz.

Davies took the first round from Allano but Jose hammered Willie rather unkindly in the second chapter and had a nice edge when the third and the Cuban romped off with the fourth.

That was the last round the Cuban did win and when the bout was

Union And Mars Playing Tonight

Union High Will Entertain Mars High On Their Floor Tonight

GIRLS TO PLAY IN PRELIMINARY

Union High School basketball team will be fighting for the leadership in the Section 18 race tonight at Union High gym, when they will play the fast Mars High team, one of the co-holders along with Union for first place in the loop. Zelenople is the other team deadlocked with these two fine schoolboy teams.

Coach Dave Boyd will send his strongest lineup to the floor tonight to face the team that whipped Zelenople and stopped their long winning streak. The Union lineup will probably be the same as started the Slippery Rock game with Morrison and Boron at the forwards, Wayne White at center, and Sniezek and Monico at the guards.

Mars Confident
Mars High will come here bent on taking the measure of the Unionites. The upset victory Mars gained over Zelenople has given them a lot of confidence. Zelenople defeated Union by only one point which should make the game here interesting.

The star performers on the Mars team are Profit and N. Schumaker. It has been the work of these pair that has kept Mars in the running. Union will try and devise a means of bottling up these two stars.

The Union High girls will play a preliminary game starting at 7:30 o'clock. Their opponents will be selected among a number of clever girl teams in New Castle.

Fred Fitzsimmons Says Salary Offer For 1933 Too Small

NEW YORK GIANT STAR PITCHER EXPECTS CUT, BUT WANTS OWNERS TO BE REASONABLE

(International News Service)
PASADENA, Cal., Jan. 20.—Fred Fitzsimmons, famous Giant pitcher, Thursday revealed that he had not signed his 1933 contract, and that he did not propose to do so until certain "adjustments" were made.

"I expect a cut, but there is such a thing as going too far," said Fitzsimmons. "I haven't talked it over yet with the Giant authorities, but I'm going to see what I can do about it. I may do it as I did last year and wait until the boys come out here for spring training before I enter negotiations."

Fitzsimmons refused to reveal what his salary had been or what percentage cut he was asked to take.

Geneva Defeats Titans 34 To 20

Westminster Takes Setback At Hands Of Geneva In Tri-State Battle

AULTMAN-DOUGLAS SCORING STARS

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 26.—Geneva college basketball team ranked at the top of the pile in the Tri-State conference today with four victories and no defeats, as a result of their upset of the Westminster Titans basketball team last night by a score of 34 to 20. It was one of the worst defeats for the Lawthermen of Westminster in many seasons.

Cliff Aultman was the mainspring in the Geneva attack, caging no less than seven field goals to ring up 14 points. He was followed for point scoring honors by Billy Douglass of Westminster, who amassed 11 points on five field goals and a lone foul.

Geneva Takes Lead.
The Geneva team shot into a 3 to 0 lead in the first few minutes of play, but the Titans soon evened up the count and the fans looked for a tough tussle, but at the end of the first half the Geneva team had a lead of 11 to 5. Westminster had a tough time penetrating the Geneva man for man defense.

It was a determined band of Westminster players that swept the Geneva team aside last night. The game lacked the flashy playing of other years when these two teams invariably staged close finishes. Outside of the work of Aultman and Douglass the game was listless.

The defeat practically eliminates Westminster from consideration in the championship honors of the Tri-State this year. Geneva made six fouls out of ten tries, and the Titans made but four out of nine charity throws.

The summary:
Geneva. Fg. F. Tp. Aultman, f. 7 0 14 Aultman, f. 3 1 3 Beisch, c. 2 2 6 Manning, g. 1 1 3 Grahame, g. 0 1 1 Hutley, c. 1 1 3

Fields-McLarnin Bout Is Sought
(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Whether Jackie Fields, welterweight champion of the world, will defend his title against Jimmy McLarnin of Vancouver, B. C., or Young Corbett III of Fresno, Cal., was a question that puzzled fight fans today.

McLarnin accepted terms to meet Fields in Los Angeles.

Jack Kearns, manager of Fields, was in San Francisco today negotiating for a bout between Fields and Corbett, but Kearns prefers the McLarnin-Fields engagement here, believing it would outdraw the proposed San Francisco match by about $4

Golf League Is Re-Organized

Old Officers Are Re-elected At Meeting Held In Munich Clubhouse

EXPECT NEW CLUBS
TO ENTER LEAGUE

At a meeting held in the Municipal course clubhouse last evening, officers were elected for the coming year, and preliminary plans made for the coming season by the New Castle Golf League.

Practically all the old officers were re-elected, Charles E. Allen being named president; Walter Vogan, vice president; Walter DeArment, secretary and Edward Koonce, treasurer.

Nine teams were represented at the meeting last evening and one new team, the P. and L. E. Railroad was represented at the meeting. While all the teams, which were in the league last season were not re-elected, it is understood that all of them are contemplating continuing in the league.

In order to avoid congestion on the courses, the schedule committee this year will divide the teams between the two local courses, Castle Hills, and Municipal, which will not inconvenience regular patrons of these courses. It is possible that some of the matches may be played at the Field Club.

A committee on course arrangements, consisting of Ralph F. Davis, Walter Vogan and Joe McCann was named to interview the governing board of the Municipal and Castle Hills courses, relative to use of the courses by the league.

It is planned to play all matches on Thursday evening as in the past.

Another meeting will be held about the middle of February when plans for the league will be furthered.

Grovers-Thiel To Battle Saturday

Coach Thorn Getting Grove
City Ready For Game
With Lutherans

GROVE CITY, Jan. 20—Coach Bob Thorn predicted another reverse for the Grove City College football team at Thiel Saturday night.

when he held a long drill today. The Crimson mentor pointed out that Thiel has always been hard for the Grovers to beat at the indoor sport, and with his team badly disorganized as the result of losing to Waynesburg, he can see only a Thiel victory.

It is probable that the regular line-up of Fegley, Minnick, Solch, Stavnitsky and Laycock will start against Thiel at Greenville Saturday evening. Coach Thorn served notice, however, that the veterans will have to show a big improvement to stay in the game, and he will use the reserves unless the starting team plays heads-up ball all the time.

Harry Hinchman Taken By Death

(International News Service)
TOLEDO, O., Jan. 20.—Baseball lost another of its old-time stars today with the death of Harry S. Hinchman, 54, former second baseman for the Cleveland Indians and manager of the Toledo Mudhens. Death was caused by heart trouble.

Hinchman was a brother of William (Bill) Hinchman, scout for the Pittsburgh Pirates, and an uncle of Lew Hinchman, star athlete at Ohio State university. He broke into baseball in 1909 with Waterbury, Conn., and was purchased by Cleveland. He then became affiliated with St. Paul. Leaving the minors, he managed the Williamsport, Pa., and Reading, Pa., teams.

Earnshaw Will Get Big Cut

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 20.—George Earnshaw, Philadelphia Athletics pitcher, waited patiently today for a glimpse at his 1933 contract which he learned would call for a 75 per cent salary slash.

Earnshaw told friends he would "look it over very carefully. That's a big cut."

Washington Give The Market Boost

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A flurry of buying and short covering touched off by rumors of constructive developments in Washington as a result of President-elect Roosevelt's visit, brought a strong stock market today.

Early gains ran from 1 to nearly 3 points. The advance soon exhausted itself, however, and renewal of pressure on Consolidated Gas, the weak spot in yesterday's late trading, checked the rally.

Sentiment was cheered by continued improvement in outside markets. Bonds added to yesterday's gains, led by the rails. Wheat and corn put on another good performance, the former rising nearly a cent a bushel, while cotton strengthened.

The ease with which stocks went up in moderate activity indicated short covering was largely responsible for the flurry. Favorite bear targets such as American Telephone, Union Pacific, Case Threshing and U. S. Steel led the upturn.

Consolidated Gas was strong in the early dealings but gave way without much resistance when the advance halted.

Motor stocks were better. Auburn spurted about 2 points and Chrysler shook off its recent heaviness. Oils continued to ignore the crude price reductions.

A run-up in Union Pacific lifted the other rails, aided by strength in their bonds. Pennsylvania was an active spot.

Locals Enter Contest As Under-dogs Against Bridenbaugh Five

VISITORS WILL BE PRESSED TO WIN

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 20.—Lincoln high gym will be the mecca for all sports followers in the district this evening as Ellwood and New Castle high school eagerly await the opening whistle to continue their ancient series on the basketball court.

The main game will get under way at 8:15. A preliminary game between the reserve teams of both schools will take place at seven o'clock. New Castle has never failed to attract a capacity crowd here. Lincoln gym will seat 2,000 people comfortably. Arrangements have been completed to accommodate an overflow crowd. The attendance to-night may be nearer 3,000.

The same prices as before will prevail for the game. Student tickets are 10 cents and adult tickets 25 cents.

New Castle high will enter the game with an untarnished record in their league contests. They have only one reverse to their credit and that was an alumni five in a close and hard-fought game. Therefore they are installed as favorites for tonight's affray. Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh has been able to mould a formidable quint, despite the loss of two such valuable performers as Andy Lasky and Nickie Uram. Out of that championship team of last year he has yet Johnny Ham, Bob Reiber and Teplica to carry on. Uram and Teplica will hold down their usual jobs at the forward posts and Reiber will be at his guard position. Filling in, Ridley at center and Komnic at the other guard has given Coach Bridenbaugh a smooth working combination. He also has some capable replacements.

The Ellwood high team has been holding some private workouts in the past two days in preparation for this battle. Some new plays were added to their repertoire which they hope to successfully spring against the red and black clad invaders tonight. Coach Benedict has stressed an offensive attack to his players, who also brushed up a little on their defense work. The game tonight may find both teams using the zone defense and it will be no push over for either contestant by any means. A strong offensive revolving around Captain Tom Barnes has been developed.

Barnes is set for the greatest game of his life and is expected to be a big cog in the Ellwood offense and defense this evening. This will be the last game for him. Johnny Uram will be filling a like position for his alma mater and will be out to sweep the Ellwoodians off their feet. Coach Benedict has a dangerous scoring combination. Means have been taken to check them tonight.

The probable line-up: Ellwood: Bolotin, F., Uram, Latino, P., Teplica, Barnes (C), Komnic, Johnson, G., Reiber, Johnson, G., Komnic.

Light Registration
For Night School

Tonight Is Last Time For Persons To Register For Special Courses Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 20.—The registration for the second semester of Night School held last night in the Lincoln building was smaller than was expected in view of the fact that Night School is free for this semester. The school can accommodate as many as wish to attend, and the thought that it might be crowded should keep no one from registering.

The classes in Shop Sketching, Mechanical Drawing, Shop Mathematics, Cabinet Making, English and Typewriting are well adapted to take care of new students, and it is hoped that many will take advantage of this opportunity. The students previously enrolled are urged to re-register, and continue their work along the line they have chosen. The work once started should be carried on to a point where it becomes a valuable asset to the student. Work only partly completed cannot be classed as an accomplishment.

Another opportunity will be given tonight to register for Night School. Don't allow the lack of funds to keep you from registering because you have thirty days in which to pay your registration fee, and remember, the $2.50 is returned to you if you attend 75% of the classes.

NEW VILLAGE BLACKSMITH IS GIRL

Nona Owens

The blacksmith of Longfellow's immortal poem was a "mighty man with large and sinewy hands" and muscles "strong as iron bands", you will remember. There's a new 1933 model village blacksmith, but the village is Greenwich Village, in New York City, and the "blacksmith" is a

Farrell Triumphs
Over MerchantsBarrage Of Field Goals Made
As Locals Lose 37-32
Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 20.—Being unable to maintain the pace they set the Ellwood City Merchants went down to their seventh consecutive defeat at Farrell last night, score 37-32, after leading the game for three quarters. They crumbled in the closing chapter.

For three quarters the Ellwood Merchants displayed a marvelous brand of basketball. The game was featured by a barrage of field goals by both teams. All of the Merchants' players contributed their best into last night's game.

The first quarter ended with Ellwood out in front by an 8-5 score. In the ensuing stanza the Tubers speeded things up a little and scored 15 points to the home team's 6 to make the score 23-11 for the Merchants at half-time.

Farrell turned the tables and launched a scoring drive of their own. The Merchants were outscored 13-3 in the third period to make the score 36-24 for Ellwood. The final chapter was fast and furious which soon had Farrell wiping out the Merchants' lead and surpassing them. They again got 13 points to Ellwood's 6, making the final score 37-32.

Once again it was the uncanny shooting of Simka that resulted in Ellwood's defeat. He shared high scoring honors with Todd Lloyd, Ellwood ace, with 13 points each. Seach, Seaman, Kapsa, and Hronyak, also played a fine game for the victors. Leyda, Justine, and Friedhoff credited themselves well.

The summary:

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

One of the restaurant girls is responsible for this one. Claims a customer sat down and ordered toast and coffee. "Will you have French toast?" says the girl. And the answer was "No, I Buy American."

This "Buy American" idea seems to be spreading. Folks are asking for American made goods more and more every time they do it helps some American industry. Now if the idea would just permeate some of the big fellows who are buying Belgian cement for their new buildings, German steel, Russian and Welsh coal, and a lot of other basic commodities, the idea would be going places.

Belgian cement is shipped to this country as ballast in empty ships. The ship must be ballasted and the cement is a handy commodity. Hence no freight. Manufactured by low waged workers, shipped across the pond free, it can be laid down in any Atlantic coast harbor at a cost no American cement mill can compete with.

Nobody seemed satisfied when the lights went out on the north end of town last night. The folks up there complained it interfered with their bridge games and some lads out on the East Side said they would have welcomed the lights out idea.

And nobody in Lawrence County was satisfied much with the Westminster-Geneva score last night. That is nobody except such lads as Tom Elliott, Dr. E. A. Crooks and a few other Geneva followers. The Covenanters apparently snuck up on the Blue and White and dropped one over their heads.

You can laugh off a close game with one or two points difference, but not even Joe E. Brown could laugh off a fourteen point shellacking. That's conclusive enough for anybody.

Seems like there is music in the air. Miss Gladys Rich, the supervisor of music for the New Castle Schools, wants to present something a little more elaborate than the ordinary run-of-mine musical productions. Whether to present "Robin Hood" or "Hit The Deck" or something along that order, with Robin Hood seeming to have the call just yet. Someone has suggested that if the piece is to concern robbers that "Little Jessie James" might be appropriate, or rather more up-to-date.

And it is just our own opinion that unless more is done in such things, that of bringing youngsters out in music, that the day is coming when a good juvenile singer will be a rare avis. The radio and talkies between them have ruined the inspiration of young singers and where we had a dozen a few years ago we're lucky to have one today.

Neighbors said Finch, who lived alone in his shop, often became so engrossed in his puzzles he would hang out a sign "don't disturb."

Fluke Wins For Karns City In Basketball Tilt

Referee Waddington reported to The News today one of the weirdest basketball plays ever recorded in these parts which happened at Slippery Rock High School floor last night.

Slippery Rock High was playing Karns City High in a Section 18 game. There was one minute left to play. Slippery Rock was leading 17 to 16, it looked like a sure Slippery Rock victory. But then Lady Luck stepped in and gave Karns City the game 18 to 17, and here is how it happened—

A Karns City man with the time growing smaller by each tick of the clock heaved the ball from the center of the floor, the ball rebounded off the basket rim and bounced and hit a Slippery Rock man on the shoulder, and then took a crazy bounce and hit a Karns City man on the head, and then he and he held it bounced a third time and plunked right through the basket.

It was a basket for Karns City. It was a tough way for Slippery Rock to be defeated, but all is fair in love, war and basketball.

That's one of those freak shots that happen every say thousand years or so.
